AIR NAVIGATION SERVICES

GENERAL

VISITS BY PILOTS TO AIR TRAFFIC SERVICES UNITS AND CONTROL CENTRES

- ☛ Indicates changes.
 - ☛ This AIC replaces AIC 40-3 dated 02-10-15.
1. In an effort to promote aviation safety, the management of the Air Traffic and Navigation Services Company, has decided to make the Air Traffic Control Units including Centres, under their control, even more accessible to pilots and other interested organisations.
 2. The idea is to conduct group lectures at various venues and organised tours through ATS Units and Control centres, in order to better acquaint users to the services as to what service is provided. A better understanding of the workings of the Air Traffic Control systems will inevitably lead to safer skies for all.
 3. To facilitate the above, interested parties are invited to contact the following persons at the telephone numbers indicated. It must be pointed out that due to the size of the various units or centres, and the staff situation, there is a limit to the number of visitors that can be accommodated in each tour group. It is unfortunate that the ATC Staff will not be in the position to organise entry permits at airports where such permits are a requirement. After an appointment has been made with ATC, visitors will be expected to make their own entry arrangements with airport authorities for access to the ATS Units and Control Centres. Entry permits are normally issued by the airport manager's office or the security office.
