GENERAL NOTICE RELATING TO AIC 18.19

This General Notice serves to confirm that, after a thorough review of all AIC's issued and published on the SACAA website, in November 2023, AIC 18.19 has been withdrawn. AIC 18.19 was initially issued in 2001 and reissued in 2006. After internal analysis of the AIC content, it became clear that the AIC is outdate as it still referred to the repealed Civil Aviation Regulations (CAR) of 1997. The 1997 regulations were repealed in 2011.

In order to close the gap created by the withdrawal of AIC 18.19, the SACAA will be issuing a general exemption for a period of 180 days which is aligned to the current Regulations.

Upon expiry of this general exemption, aircraft owners or operators are required to comply with CAR 43.02.5 of 2011 and its associated Civil Aviation Technical Standards.

Industry stakeholders, aircraft owners or operators are expected to comply with set regulations, CAR 43.02.5 and CATS 43.02.5 and also comply with manufacturers' requirements and recommendations of the engines or products they operate.
