INDUSTRY COMMUNIQUE

26 AUGUST 2025

REBRANDING OF THE SACAA

Dear Industry Partners and Clients,

The South African Civil Aviation Authority (SACAA) is pleased to announce that we have entered an exciting new chapter in our journey.

Following our recent relocation to new head offices at the Byls Bridge Office Park in Centurion, we are now proud to unveil our refreshed corporate identity. This includes a new logo, which officially comes into effect today, 26 August 2025. See the new logo below.

Our refreshed identity reflects our continued growth, commitment to world-class services, and dedication to safe, secure, and sustainable aviation. It also embodies our values anchored on the principles of Ubuntu — calling us to serve in upholding aviation safety and security standards, encourage teamwork, conduct our business with integrity, collaborate with our stakeholders, ensure service excellence as we interact and transact with our clients on a daily basis and to take accountability for our decisions and actions.

Over the coming months, the new logo will gradually be introduced across our building signage, website, social media platforms, vehicles, uniforms, and official documentation. All newly issued forms, certificates, and licences will feature the refreshed logo. Please note:

- During this transition, there will be no disruption to services. Applications, renewals, and related processes will continue as normal.
- Existing certificates and licences bearing the previous SACAA logo remain valid until their expiry date.
- The rollout of new certificates and licences featuring the updated branding will be phased to ensure a seamless transition.
- Logos associated with key events such as the Civil Aviation Industry Awards, the National Aviation Gender Summit, and the National Aviation Conference will also be refreshed to align with our new identity.

All documentation issued by the SACAA with the new or previous logo will be deemed valid until we announce a total discontinuation of the old logo, which is expected to take place within the next 24 months to allow for the renewal of all certificates and licenses issued by the SACAA.

The SACAA remains committed to serving you with excellence, and we thank you for your continued partnership and support.

Kind regards,

Electronically signed
